Feline Love

Andrea Nicki

My cat is very sociable She likes to be close to the neighbouring cat and sits outside his door for hours making sweet sound listening to his bell tinkle just inches away his paws scratching futilely to get out We never hear him speak he is a quiet fellow, but I don't think his voice would be filled with coloratura song of doomed love felines know nothing of this having many playmates is best, they teach us
